

Setting Default Programs

We strongly suggest you change the default browser from Edge to something else. You have 4 browsers on your computer since we updated to 10. There is Edge (the Microsoft replacement for IE), Chrome, Mozilla, and you still have access to IE. Any one of these can be launched by typing their name in the search bar at the bottom left of your screen. Microsoft has Edge tied to many things within the OS. It is not what we consider “User Friendly” but cannot be uninstalled. Printing from it is not impossible but very difficult to do. So if you prefer one of the others, just make that one your default by following these steps.

1. In the search bar type in “default” and click on the one that looks like this

2. Click on “Set your default programs.
3. Let the program populate a list of all the installed Apps (Applications).
4. Choose the program(s) you want to make default (this works on any of the ones listed) and click “Set this program as default”.
5. Click OK and you’re done!
6. We suggest you do this for Adobe Reader too.
